EATEN AND L DIE IN FLAT F

A MAN found dead following a house fire had been assaulted.

A post-mortem on the body of Albert Williams, 67, who was found dead in his flat at Cedar Close, Southend, on Saturday, August 8, showed he suffered serious internal injuries. Detectives believe he was assaulted and died from internal injuries, possibly the result of a robbery.
Police arrested a 42-year-old man

OAP died from serious injuries possibly the result of a robbery in Southend on suspicion of murder on Sunday. He has been bailed until October 8.

Officers are investigating if a bur-glary at Mr Williams's home on August 1, when three men assaulted him and stole money, is linked to the investigation.

Mr Williams's death was initially treated as not suspicious.

DCI Martin Pasmore said: 'Although one man has been arrested on suspicion of murder I do not want the public to think that is an end to the matter. I believe the motivation for the murder was robbery although I remain open-minded about other possibilities.

"We would like to hear from anyone who has not yet contacted information about Mr Williams or his assailants.

"The information might appear to be insignificant, but it could help us to piece together the events that resulted in a murder and a fire, which appears to have been started deliberately in an attempt to dispose of evidence.

"We also need to find out more about Mr Williams's family."

Anyone with any information is asked to contact police at the major investigation team on 101

More than 99 per cent of youngsters achieve at least one grade

Southend students' GCSE exam success

SOUTHEND Council has praised GCSE students for an impressive set of exam results.

Sixty-four per cent of students achieved five A* to C grades including English and maths, a two per cent increase on last year's results.

Overall, 99.2 per cent of Southend students achieved at least one GCSE which is an improvement on last year and above the national figure.

Cllr Anne Jones, executive member for children and learning, said:
"Students and teachers across the borough should hold their heads high for an impressive set of exam results. They will have been hard fought and hard won.'

Southend High School for Girls' head teacher, Fiona Brierley, said she was thrilled with her pupils results.

She said: "Staff and students have worked very hard to achieve such amazing grades.

"A total of 39 students gained grades A or A* in 11 subjects or more, while nine students achieved the top grade A* in 10 or more sub-"These are outstanding and are well-deserved.

"Overall 67 per cent of grades are an eight per cent improvement from last vear.

"The staff and I are really proud of our girls – well done to everyone."

Hundreds of lucky teenagers were delighted when they were given free ice creams on Pier Hill, Southend, to help celebrate their success.

An ice cream van, followed by a car full of staff from South East Essex College, hit the road in a bid to provide post-GCSE educational advice along with the free ice creams.

Ruby Chiltern, of South East Essex College, told the YA: "We were very warmly received, everyone loves a freebie - especially ice cream.

"It was a great way to reach people who had just had their GCSE results."

Hit-and-run driver crashes into house

By Suzi Muston

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after a car ploughed into the front of a house in Leigh.

The crash happened in Blenheim Chase at about 11.40pm on Saturday, August 22.

The vehicle, believed to be a blue VW Golf, left the road, crossed the pavement, travelled about 15 yards along the property's drive and collided with the front door and front wall.

Investigating officer Sgt Mark Ammon said: "The driver of this car, lish, lost control, entered a private drive and collided with the house.

"The driver then reversed off of the drive and headed off toward Southend General Hospital.

"It is only by luck that nobody was

"Had a pedestrian been on the pavement or the householder been at the front door then this collision would have resulted in serious injury or even a fatality.'

Anyone with information should contact Sgt Ammon at Laindon traffic police garage on 101 or call Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

● THOUSANDS of teddy bears enjoyed a picnic in Priory Park, Southend.

The annual teddy bears' picnic formed part of the week-long Southend carnival celebrations.

Youngsters dressed up as their favourite character in a fancy dress competition.
Organisers said this year children wore a fantastic variety of costumes. Radio Essex provided face-painting all day.

There was ice cream, a bouncy castle and each child received a goody bag.

● THOUSANDS of people could descend onto Shoebury East beach on bank holiday weekend for an illegal rave.

Residents and councillors fear a repeat performance of an allnight extravaganza which took place at the beauty spot on August 9.

Scores of Shoebury residents complained the revellers left the beach littered with rubbish.

Shoebury Independent councillor Mike Assenheim said he has notified the borough police commander Simon Anslow.

He said: "I have been told by quite a few residents there will be another rave on the bank holiday weekend from noon until 10pm.

"This event has been advertised on Facebook.
"The council has been made aware of this."

Councillor Assenheim said he wanted the police to use section 63 of the Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994, to stop ravers entering the area.

He had received calls from angry residents about the previous event.

Police had sent a helicopter to monitor the site but no arrests were made.

A spokesman for Essex Police said: "We are looking into this."

Handbag thief jailed

A SOUTHEND man described by police as a "one man crimewave" has begun a jail sentence

Carl Weighman, 33, was jailed for 21 months at Basildon Crown Court on Tuesday after admitting theft, burglary and assaulting three police officers.

Unemployed Weighman stole an 86-year-old woman's handbag while she was reading in Southchurch Library

December last year.

The court heard the pensioner's bag contained precious personal items including her gold wedding band, two diamond rings worth a four-figure sum, and £100 cash.

The bag also contained the elderly woman's bank cards, which Weighman used to withdraw £500 from her bank account.

Weighman later targeted the Essex Jamme Masjid Mosque in Chelmsford Avenue and admitted two counts of burglary with intent to steal.

The court heard he entered the mosque through a door designated for Muslim women during prayer sessions on January 30 and February 13, but left empty-handed after being spotted by the Imam.

Weighman also pleaded

guilty to assaulting three police officers while in custody following his arrest.

The investigating officer, Detective Inspector Andy Copley from Southend CID, said: "Carl Weighman's actions caused a great deal of unrest within Southend's Muslim community.

"Sadly the rings he stole from the elderly woman, which were of great sentimental value, have never been recovered.

"The weight of evidence against him gave Weighman no option but to admit the crimes he committed.
"His imprisonment can only make the community a safer

Post off

SHOEBURY'S historic post office in George Street had to shut up shop following a break-in last Wednesday. The post office, which has been subject to a number of break-ins over the years, will be closing for good in October.

Shoebury Independent councillor Mike Assenheim said fortunately, local people won't have to go without a post office.

Owners of Station News, Anja and Harish Panchal, who have run the convenience store for 23 years ,will accommodate a post office at the back of their shop.

Cllr Assenheim fold the YA: "We are sad to see the post office shut of course.

"Fortunately Anja and Harish Panchal will be our new post master mistress."

The post office will have a separate entrance at the back and will open from Monday to Saturday, 9am-5.30pm, with some services available from the shop which is open Monday to Saturday, 5.45am-8.30pm, and Sunday 7am-5pm.

Feeling hot, hot, hot!

MORE than 40,000 people flocked to the warmest carnival Southend on record and as the mercury topped 30 degrees celsius, SUZI MUSTON joined the party crowds CHEERING crowds packed the streets right from the start of the noisy procession in Southchurch Park and all along the seafront to the finish at the pier.

The crowds went wild when carnival favourites Rampage, whose dancers were weighed down with stunning 10ft colourful costumes, passed by.

The troupe, who travelled from Brixton, south London, have been a smash hit with the crowds for many years.

Carnivalgoers also showed their appreciation for firefighters who pulled a fire engine with ropes along the carnival route in scorching temperatures.

The crew's task was made all the more difficult as the procession regularly stopped so the six-tonne engine had to be pulled from a stationary position each time. Other big hits were the brave Shetland ponies from the Essex Horse and Pony Protection Society. The tiny ponies had to contend with cheering revellers, loud drums and thousands of enthusiastic children pawing at them along packed streets.

Three Chinese lions from the South Wing Chun martial arts group left the crowds startled and delighted with a traditional high-energy display.

The carnival was made up of 65 floats representing community organisations, charities and firms.

Organisers of the Southend SummerCare Carnival used Facebook so the public could vote for their favourite floats. First place went to the Second Southchurch Scouts, who decorated their vehicle like a pirate ship. Runners-up were Southend RNLI, the South Wing Chung Association's Chinese Dragons and Rossi Ice Čream.

Carnival organisers said it was the busiest carnival they had ever seen.

Police 'no comment' over Bamber papers

By Charles Thomson

brentwood@yellowad.co.uk

POLICE have refused to answer allegations that they are withholding important docu-ments about their investigation convicted murderer Jeremy Bamber.

The force twice failed to answer questions from the YA about claims made in a new online petition.

Campaigners have launched the petition claiming Essex Police has refused to release "thousands of pages" of infor-mation. Signatories are asked to call on justice minister Michael Gove to intervene.

Bamber, 54, was convicted in 1986 of murdering his adoptive parents, adoptive sister and her six-year-old twin sons at White House Farm in Tolleshunt D'Arcy, near Farm in Maldon.

He was convicted on the strength of a jury's 10-2 majority verdict at Chelmsford Crown Court and is serving a whole-life sentence.

He continues to protest his innocence and campaigners say releasing unseen documents could provide grounds for a new appeal.
In 2001 the Criminal Cases

JAILED: Jeremy Bamber

Review Commission decided there were possible grounds for appeal and referred his case to the Appeal Court, but judges upheld the conviction.

Heidi Hawkins, 53, from Jersey, a member of the Jeremy Bamber Official Campaign, said the group believes the files exist because they are referenced in documents which have been made public.

She claimed many of the unseen papers detailed the early stages of the investigation, when police believed the deaths were the result of a murder-suicide killing by Bamber's

Ms Hawkins claimed the documents were never released because the subsequent inves tigation into Bamber was dealt with as a separate case.

The petition, launched two weeks ago, has attracted more than 400 signatures.

Ms Hawkins said: "If they have nothing to hide then let's see all of the information.

"We just want justice for Jeremy Bamber. Nobody gets a fair trial if you don't hear half of the information."

When the YA asked Essex Police to confirm or deny whether it was refusing to documents, release spokesman said: "Essex Police has no comment to make on this matter, given that Jeremy Bamber's conviction has been the subject of several appeals and reviews by the Criminal Cases Review Commission and there has never been anything to suggest that he was wrongly convicted."

The YA again asked the force to confirm or deny the claims but the spokesman replied: "No further comment bevond our statement.'

castlepoint@yellowad.co.uk

A CHILDREN'S hospice held its first sports day for youngsters in its care.

Jane Harwood, the play specialist at Little Havens in Thundersley who organised the event, said: "Many of the children we care for don't get the opportunity to join in a sports day.

"Here we care for the whole family so putting on an event like this that they can all enjoy together was great."

More than 20 children and their families

More than 20 children and their families turned up at Deanes School Sports Centre to take part in boccia, curling, javelin, precision bean bag, standing long jump, and a wheelchair slalom.

Grace Gibbons, 13, from Westcliff, attends Little Havens for respite. Her mum Jo said: "Grace really enjoyed the curling as she could push the stones herself using the ramp.

"She loves the social side of Little Havens events, like the sports day, and being around other children, so she smiled the whole day."

On the day volunteers from Active Essex

On the day volunteers from Active Essex helped show families each of the sporting activities and provide encouragement.

Everyone taking part was given a scorecard, which was marked with a sticker when they had completed the activity.

At the end of the day each child was presented with a certificate, medal and goodie bag from Active Essex by Little Havens head boy Luke Burrell.

Sporting equipment was provided by Panathlon, a charity which offers sporting opportunities to over 5,000 children across the country each year and holds 'mini-paralympic' multisport competitions for secondary or primary school children.

V Fest basks in hot talent

Hylands Park event is favourite festival of stars and crowds alike

V FESTIVAL'S 20th anniversary was a sizzler thanks to temperatures soaring to 31 degrees celsius and some of the hottest musical talent around.

Headliners Kasabian and Calvin Harris were not the only ones to steal the show as there were outstanding performances from Ellie Goulding, Sam Smith, Ella Eyre, Olly Murs and Kodaline.

Imelda May opened the Virgin Media Stage on Saturday and returned later in the evening with Sir Tom Jones on the MTV Stage.

The singer-songwriter from Dublin joined the Welsh legend for a duet. She said: "I got a call to say would you like to sing with Tom Jones, what would you say?"

Sir Tom announced they would release an album together this year.

He also told the crowd: "We have a book coming out and a new record coming out, so you can get two for one – it's all the truth."

On Saturday fans at Hylands Park watched as Labrinth popped the question to his long-term girlfriend,

During his set the singer and producer got down on one knee to propose and she said yes. Multi award-winning singer Smith declared V Festival as his favourite show of the calendar before saying he was off to write his next album after the weekend.

Despite a downpour the rain did not dampen spirits on Sunday as the crowds seemed to grow to enjoy Goulding, Harris, Paloma Faith, Stereophonics and Eyre.

Coroner rap was over pathologist

EXCLUSIVE

By Charles Thomson

southend@yellowad.co.uk

THE Essex coroner received an official sanction over a delayed inquest, even though the hold-up was not her fault. Caroline Beasley-Murray was found guilty of misconduct and given a formal warning by the High Court last year, but new information suggests the delay was caused by the pathology service. New details emerged last week as the YA won a partial victory in a 14-month battle to uncover details of complaints about the Essex Coroner Service.

An internal memo was released which claimed the coroner repeatedly chased the missing pathology report that caused the delay.

It added that grieving relatives who suffered the delay later tried to withdraw their complaint, but the Judicial Conduct Investigations Office (JCIO) issued the warning any-

The YA began investigating complaints about the service last June after revealing Mrs Beasley-Murray received the warning, signed off by the Lord

FROM

DELAY?: Coroner Caroline Beasley-Murray

Chancellor and the Lord Chief Justice.

They ruled she had "delayed"

an inquest and failed to keep "interested parties" updated.
But the JCIO repeatedly refused to answer questions, such as how the coroner delayed the inquest and why this constituted misconduct.

In July 2014 the YA filed a Freedom of Information request with the county council, requesting copies of documents and correspondence concerning complaints about the coroner.

Civil servants refused to release details claiming the information was "personal".

The YA took legal action against the council in May, filing an official complaint with Information Commissioner's Office (ICO).

Essex County Council last week admitted it "could have done more" to answer the questions. It released a partially-redacted copy of an internal email from May 2014 about the formal warning.

The email was sent to senior managers at County Hall to inform them of the impending iudgement against Beasley-Murray.

It was also sent to Councillor Ann Naylor, then cabinet member for public health and wellbeing.

It read: "The original complaint was made due to delays in receiving the pathologist's report. Although the pathologist was regularly chased this had little impact.

"We are now undertaking review of the pathologist services that should help to avoid similar issues in future.
"Since the original request was raised the inquest has been held and the family have requested that their complaint be withdrawn."

The ICO's investigation into the YA's request is ongoing.

The YA is seeking further details about the coroner service and complaints.

More than 50 drug related crimes at ESSEX Police made 63 arrests and ejected 248 people over the weekend at V Festival, once again demonstrating that crime and anti-social behaviour will not be tolerated at the event.

The majority of these arrests were for 53 drug linked offences many of which were identified following the help of the sniffer dogs at the entrance. Policing commander, Chief

Supt Simon Williams said: "I'm really pleased with the great coordination work from all our officers with the organisers, security team and local authority, who worked tirelessly to ensure the event was both enjoyable and safe. Despite the overall success of the festival, a large amount of people ignored the warnings around the selling and consumption of legal highs. We seized over 17,000 nitrous oxide canisters and ejected 248 people due to the new powers following the introduction of the Public Protection Order (PSPO). The use of the PSPO and ejection tent was new to V Festival this year and show-cased our multi-agency capabilities to prevent anti-social behaviour and crime."

of Victory over Japan (VJ) Day, and the 100th anniversary of the landings at Suvla Bay in Gallipoli, Councillor Graham Longley, cabinet member for enterprise and tourism, said: 'The talks given by history experts were a good opportunity to learn about the contribution of Southend people across world.

"Some of them made the ultimate sacrifice and are forever remembered on the roll of honour.

"As much national publicity is given to wartime anniversaries, it really brought the past alive."

VJ Day on August 15, 1940, marked the end of the Second World War. The landing at Suvla Bay in the First World War was on August 6, 1915.

A SCOUT troop needs to raise another £10,000 so work can start to make its hall more wheelchair friendly to cub Sam - and encourage other disabled youngsters to join.

The improvements 4th Rochford Scouts want to make will cost £64,000 and so far it has collected around £46,000 towards the total.

The troop meets at John Howard Hall, Church Walk, Rochford, and is eager to make life easier for a young scout with cerebral palsy.

The group has worked hard to raise money for the project with various activities, including bag-packing at local supermarkets, quiz and race nights and a summer fete which raised £600.

"We've had grants from different trusts, Rayleigh Lions recently gave us £1,000," said Lyn Smee, a former scout leader.

"We want to install a wheelchair accessible toilet and shower room because we encourage the youngsters to take part in activities on the field next to the hall – and that means they get covered in

"It would be nice if Sam could wheel himself straight into the shower room to get clean."

The troop was recently given £770 by Essex Masons to buy two kayaks. The troop has a facebook page and website at www.4throchfordscouts.

Ask the gent

Alan Kirkman

young unmarried couple, with no children. Having just bought our first home together our solicitor is keen for us to make wills. Is this really necessary?

A. There is no legal requirement for you to make wills, just because you have bought a home together. However, would strongly advise you to do so. For a young couple, this might seem a touch morbid, but actually it's just common sense - and particularly so since you are neither married nor, I assume, in a civil partnership, whereby your rights of inheritance would be automatically inheritance would be automatically guaranteed. After all, you have just made probably the biggest single investment in your lives, so you want to be sure that it is protected.

Ultimately, everything hinges on the basis on which you actually bought your home. For example, many people talk about "buying a home together," when in fact only one of them actually owns it, and from a legal standpoint they are simply co-habiting. In such cases, a will is an absolute necessity otherwise the surviving partner has no rights of ownership or inheritance whatsoever, in the event that the legal owner dies.

You may, on the other hand, have bought your home in joint names. But even here, there are actually two different ways in which property can be jointly owned, with significant differences between them.

So, if you own the property as "Joint Tenants," then basically you are both equal legal owners, with each of you automatically becoming the sole owner in the event of the other's death will or no will.

However, if you own the property as "Tenants in Common," then the surviving partner has no automatic right of inheritance, and the dead person's share simply becomes part of his or her estate, to be distributed either according to the terms of any will they may have, or according to the rules of intestacy (which in practice means that it goes to any living relatives in a strictly laid-down order of precedence, or even reverts to the Crown). In such cases, the only recourse open to the surviving co-owner would be to buy out the deceased's

So, the first thing you need to do is to clarify precisely on what basis the two of you own the property. If it's as "Joint Tenants,", then you're both covered.

But, I suggest both of you make wills anyway, to cover everything else

Ask us, the award winning lettings agent...

Landlord Question

I have heard that tenancies are automatically assured shorthold tenancies (AST) and that a tenant is, therefore, entitled to a minimum term of at least six months. Suppose I rent my house out and there is a vacant gap of say three months between two longterm tenants which I would like to fill with a short three-month contract. Does this sixmonth minimum rule on ASTs mean that it is impossible for me to enforce a fixed three-month term for a short-term tenant? Other people have told me yes, which seems ridiculous!

Think Property Answer
Since 28 February 1997, all tenancies in England and Wales are automatically assured shorthold tenancies under section 19A of the Housing Act 1996 - unless the landlord specifically grants an assured tenancy in writing, which is a rare occurrence today. The AST will have a statutory minimum of six months security of tenure - whether the tenancy was granted verbally or in writing - because an order for possession cannot take effect earlier than six months after the beginning of the tenancy under section 21(5) of the Housing Act 1988

There is nothing to prevent you from granting a short-term three-month tenancy to a tenant. If the tenant agrees to leave when the three-month fixed term ends, there is However, you will have a problem if the tenant refuses to leave by mutual surrender at the end of the three months. You would then have to gain possession though the court in order to evict the tenant and that would initially require service of a notice seeking possession under section 21 (1) (b) of the Housing Act 1988 within the fixed term, or a section 21 (4) notice if the fixed period has expired.

You could then apply for a possession order as soon as the notice has expired, but the date for possession could be no earlier than six months after the start date of the tenancy. For example, if the tenancy commenced 1 January, 2013, the earliest date that a court could order possession would be 30 June, 2013.

You would not be able to install a new tenant into the accommodation until you have lawfully gained possession and evicted the previous tenant.

As Andy Scott, original guitarist with glam rockers Sweet, prepares to start a 'final' UK tour with the band he ponders the ups and downs of touring and reminisces about the 1970s with LIZ WADE

HILE it's announced as their last ever UK tour, Sweet's original member, guitarist Andy Scott, says there could always be an encore.
Scott, along with band members Pete

Lincoln, Bruce Bisland and Tony O'Hora, kick off their Finale tour in Germany this month, taking in venues across the country as well as in Austria, the Czech Republic, Switzerland and Ireland, before combining it with a Glitz, Blitz and Hitz Tour of the UK alongside fellow 1970s alumni Mud 2 and The Rubettes.

The 24-date tour, which will take them from Eastbourne on November 10 to Cheltenham on December 13, includes an appearance at Southend's Cliffs Pavilion on November 28, somewhere that Scott says has been a regular venue for the band.

He adds: "We have played lots of times there and it's been on most of our tours. There used to be a hotel up the hill we used to stay at.

"We have a few mates in that area, the Canvey Island crew, including Dr Feelgood, so hopefully they'll be coming down to see

Sweet, known originally as The Sweet, rose to fame in the 1970s – an era that played a vital role in the shaping of modern pop culture by providing a musical bridge linking the rebellion and counter-culture of the 60s and the decadence of the 1980s.

SWEET: Bruce Bisland, left, Pete Lincoln, Andy Scott, Tony O'Hora play Southend in November

In their pomp, Sweet rode a wave of smash hits including Block Buster!, The Ballroom Blitz, Fox On The Run, Love Is Like Oxygen, Little Willy and Hell Raiser, and were at the heart of a glam rock phenome-non, selling more than 55million records and enjoying 34 number one hits worldwide.

Today, the band has an illustrious pedigree, recreating live the high energy and soaring vocals associated with the Sweet sound that is the band's trademark. Now led by original member Scott the band comprises Lincoln on lead vocals and bass guitar, Bisland on drums and vocals, and O'Hora on guitar, keyboards and vocals.

Scott says: "We've done quite a few of these tours before. The last around the Christmas period, with Slade an obvious pairing for us.

"We have a big tour in Europe proceeding this called Finale. As far as Sweet doing huge back-to-back tours, we all need to preserve a bit of sanity as we get older and get in tune with our body and health."

Now in his 60s, Scott, who was diagnosed with prostrate cancer five years ago and is now clear, adds: "Having suffered prostate cancer, it leaves you with these nagging feeings, it's just kind of watching yourself."

Two of his original band members have passed away over the years – Brian Connolly in 1997, and Mick Tucker, who contracted leukaemia and died in 2002 – and Scott admits to reminiscing about the

He says: "There are times when I find myself sitting there and laughing as some-thing comes back into my mind. "Brian could have been the lead character in Minder. He would say blatant lies and people would believe him. I miss those days incredibly sometimes." He adds: "Many years ago when we started to do these theatre tours we were on tour with bands like the Rubettes.

"For the last couple of years it's mainly been with Slade.

'There are some fantastic things about touring – the time on stage.

"The rest of it, sitting on a plane, getting through security, I wouldn't put my worst

"Out of the 12 pieces of baggage, two are missing, then there's a two-hour drive into the eastern part of Germany and when you arrive it isn't what was promised to you. ● Turn to page 42

PAPER TOWNS (12A) 116 mins

uoyed by the success of superior teen weepie The Fault In Our Stars, based on the book by John Green, scriptwriters Scott Neustadter and Michael H. Weber attempt to recreate the magic with this faithful adaptation of Green's bittersweet third novel.

Paper Towns deals with similar themes of alienation and sexual awakening from the perspective of peer pressured teenagers, whose existence hinges on finding a date for the end of year

Director Jake Schreier sensitively and earnestly navigates these turbulent waters, eliciting solid performances from a young cast including leading man Nat Wolff, who played blind best friend Isaac in The Fault In Our Stars.

In the absence of a dramatic hook like terminal illness. Schreier's film sometimes lacks momentum and is missing a big emotional crescendo.

However, there's a refreshing refusal to succumb to sentimentality when the going gets tough and the script doesn't polish the characters' rough edges in order to tie up loose plot strands in a neat bow.

Every childhood is tainted with confusion and disap-pointment, and this comingof-age saga is no different.

The film's unassuming hero is Florida high school student Quentin Jacobsen (Wolff), who has been madly in love with neighbour Margo Roth Spiegelman (Cara Delevingne) since she moved into the house across the street.

He has never mustered the courage to declare his true feelings, to the chagrin of best friends Ben (Austin Abrams) and Radar (Justice Smith), who are also poorly equipped to communicate effectively with the opposite sex.
Ben is a hormone-addled mess around blonde classmate Lacey (Halston Sage), while Radar has a girlfriend called Angela (Jaz Sinclair), who he fears will dump him for someone better.

Out of the blue, Margo knocks on Quentin's bed-room window and asks him to help her wreak revenge on her cheating jock boyfriend (Griffin Freeman).

The covert night-time mission is a success but the next morning, Margo does not turn up for class.

She vanishes without trace and her parents assume she has run away

Quentin knows that Margo leaves secret markers when she goes walka-bout, so he follows a trea-sure hunt of cryptic clues to track her down.

Paper Towns refers to fictional locations, which cartographers intentionally add to maps to prevent their hard work being plagiarised.

Many of the underlying themes of Schreier's film feel second-hand – paper angst if you will - but the script tréats characters and their predicaments with cool. genuine affection.

Delevingne is a puckish, cynical foil to Wolff's naivete, and Abrams and Smith banter effectively as the comic

But does appearing on stage make it all worth it?

"It does," he replies. "Otherwise I wouldn't do it. Nobody needs to do anything, if you are quite together in life you want to do

While he admits he hasn't got nervous on stage for a long time, he does confess to feeling a bit unnerved when he performs closer to home.

More than five years ago he came up with an idea for a Rock Against Cancer event with sound engineer John 'Grubby' Callis and Richard Baulu of The Kings Arms, All Cannings, Wiltshire.

Since 2012 the pub has been the venue for Concert at the Kings and so far more than £112,000 has been raised for a range of cancer charities.

This smashed the original £50,000 target the trio set themselves in 2010. Scott adds: "We have had some stellar acts like Brian May. Last year we had Bob Geldof and The Boomtown Rats.

"I'm involved with setting it all up. The nervous bit for me is stepping up on that stage, that is far more unnerving than standing at the Rock of Ages festival in Germany."

So, while Scott looks set to continue performing in the annual Concert at the Kings, will the Glitz, Blitz and Hitz and Finale tours really be the end of the road for him and the

He adds: "It may be called Finale but there may always be an encore."

Branch out and join history trail

S well as being the place to climb aboard the longest heritage railway in the county, one Essex town is also home to ancient churches, the remains of a motte-and-bailey castle, and the former dwellings of a number of famous people. Situated on the Essex Way, an 81-mile cross-county footpath from Epping to Harwich, Ongar is more than just a town where ramblers stop – it is a place for history lovers to explore.

The Ongar Millennium History Society has carried out projects to encourage an interest in local history and preserve it for future generations to enjoy. These include installing blue plaques on significant buildings and creating a Millennium Walk through the town.

The walk, made up of 10 paving stones – five on each side of the High Street – are situated near places of interest such as King's Trust Cottages, a row of 17th century timber-framed homes; Wren

House, an elegant 18th century house with an original shop window and King's Inn, a former coaching inn which is the oldest brick-fronted building in Ongar brick-fronted building in Ongar, dated from 1697 by a panel over the arch.

As well as the Millennium Walk there are plaques including one on Livingstone Cottages under the room in which famous explorer David Livingstone lived while attending the London Missionary School in Ongar, before going to central Africa.

Blue plaques commemorate the home of Jane Taylor, author of nursery rhyme Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star, who lived in Castle Street; Budworth Hall in High Street, which was built in 1886 in memory of Captain Budworth of nearby Greensted Hall and Father Thomas Byles, a priest of St Helen's Church, who left Ongar Station to join HMS Titanic on her maiden voyage so he could attend his brother's wedding.

LISTED: Livingstone Cottages in Ongar

Father Byles famously remained on the Titanic after she collided with an iceberg in 1912, twice refusing to get on a lifeboat so he could comfort passengers and hear confessions.

His journey from Ongar is one part of the history of the station, which was built in 1865 and is a Grade II listed Great Eastern Station. It is part of the Epping Ongar Railway, the closest heritage railway to London and the only heritage line on the former London Underground network. It also claims the title of being the longest heritage line in Essex.

Ongar Station, which has always been at the end of the line, has been painstakingly restored to its original format by a team of volunteers. Today, visitors to Ongar Station can enjoy a gift shop, snack bar, and picnic and viewing areas, as well as rides on steam and diesel locomotives.

A short walk away are the remains of Ongar Castle, which is thought to have been constructed by Richard de Lucy in 1155 by Richard de Lucy in 1155.

While the site is now in private hands you can find out more about the castle from an information display board adjacent to the library.

NE of Essex's most popular and multi award-winning Indian restaurants will be putting on its 20th Birthday Bollywood Bash next month.

Maharaja Restaurant, at 358 London Road, Haharaja Restaurani, at 538 Lohdon Road, Benfleet, will be celebrating 20 years on Thursday, September 10, with a Bollywood Extravaganza full of glitz and glamour.

The evening will include an unlimited three-course buffet, featuring exciting dishes from the restaurant's new menu, which is also being launched on the night, all for just £20 per person.

There will also be glamorous Bollywood dancers to watch and learn the hottest dance moves from, free temporary henna and glitter tattoos for the ladies and a complimentary bottle of champagne for groups of four or more.

To continue the celebrations, the Maharaja will keep up the anniversary fun for the entire month with complimentary temporary henna and glitter tattoos for ladies every Friday and Saturday until October 10, between 7.30-9.30pm, and takeaway orders over £20 will receive a Maharaja Signature Dish for free until October 10. Helping to raise more than £2million for various local and national charities since its opening in 1995, the Maharaja was the first Indian restaurant in Essex to introduce the Charity Night concept to the area. Its popularity has resulted in other restaurants following suit.

The restaurant recently shone in the 2015

Curry Life Business Achievement Awards for being one of the best achievers in the country, when owner Siraj Ali was presented with the Lifetime Achievement Award by former Olympic minister Tessa Jowell, DBE, Shelim Hussain, MBE, owner of Euro Foods – one of the most successful entrepreneurs in the country with a £200m business – and Cathy Newman, Channel 4 TV news presenter.

Among the VIP guests at the London ceremo-ny was Armed Forces Minister Penny Mordaunt; Home Office Minister Lord Ahmad; Paralympic Gold medal winner Lord Chris Holmes; Deputy Leader of the House of Commons Dr Therese Coffey and MP for Leicester East, Keith Vaz.

Mr Ali said: "It was fantastic to be awarded in best achieving restaurant category.

"We were absolutely overjoyed to be named the best achiever in Restaurant Business alongside 16 businesses in the country. I would like to thank all our loyal customers who are coming through our doors and to our team at the Maharaja, because it's been a real team effort."

Wheeler's rolls on to success

HEELER'S Tandoori has proven its popularity by picking up a TripAdvisor Certificate of Excellence.

The restaurant was awarded the certificate this month for its four-and-a-half star rating.

Now in its fifth year, the award recognises establishments that consistently earn great TripAdvisor reviews.

Owner Milad said: "The good people of Castle Point have seen fit to recognise our work in the community. Thanks very much for your recogni-

The restaurant, which has been popular since opening its doors in 2009, continues to make improvements and has installed air-conditioning for the comfort of its diners.

Throughout the year Wheeler's offers a range of deals for diners including a Sunday buffet, served from 1pm to 8pm. The buffet costs just £7.95 for adults and £3.95 for children under 12, while the under-fives eat for free, making it not only outstanding value-for-money, but a great way to taste different dishes.

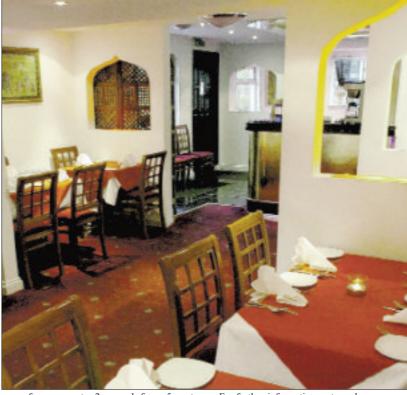

Wheeler's also serves an extensive a la carte menu offering a wide choice of meat, seafood and vegetable dishes, all of which are individually cooked to order by a chef who has more than 30 years' experience.

The establishment, which prides itself on being just how an Indian restaurant should be, serves authentic Indian cuisine in comfortable booths complete with candlelit tables, with magnificent décor, a well stocked bar, full disabled facilities, and a large private car park.

The restaurant, which has a takeaway service offering free home delivery, welcomes taste card members as well as organisations who want to benefit from its charity buffet events, which cost just £6.50 per person.

MARVELLING over the menu at Southend's II Palazzo restaurant we knew we were in for a treat as it was packed with sensational twists on Italian classics.

Its manager, Domenico, who had welcomed us through the restaurant's doors moments earlier, also proudly highlighted a range of delights on offer on their specials board, all individually selected for their freshness and taste.

Having settled into the restaurant's newly refurbished environment I opted for the Deep Fried White Bait cooked in butter from the specials board, while my wife decided to try Insalata Campagniolla Di Pallo – grilled chicken fillet set over a warm salad of new potatoes, green beans, spring onion and tomato – all for just £5.25 and £6.25 respectively.

Sipping wine while our choices were being freshly prepared by the restaurant's highly experienced chef, it wasn't long before we were enjoying the true taste of Italy. Our taste explosion continued with our main meals - Calves Liver with Bacon as well as onion, mash and wilted spinach for my wife at £14.95 and Fillet Di Manzo Diana for myself, for £16.95. Domenico, who is well known to locals and diners alike, as he had previously run another restaurant in Southchurch Road for 15 years, immediately catered for all our needs, asking both of us how we would like our dishes cooked.

My wife's selection arrived cooked to perfection, while my Fillet Di Manzo Diana – an 8oz fillet steak served with mustard and mushrooms with saute potatoes and wilted spinach – was equally mouth-watering.

Feeling full from our feast of Italian delights we opted to share a Cheesecake Brulee made with Italian ricotta, mascarpone baked with caramel with a lightly bruleed almond cream topping, for just £4.95 – the perfect way to end an exceptional evening.

The restaurant's owner wanted to give diners the chance to try something new and he has definitely achieved just that, by giving many of its dishes their very own II Palazzo twist.

While the restaurant has plenty of individual offerings on its main menu and specials board, it also has a range of special offers including a two-course Summer Lunchtime Special, one course or two-course for just £9.95 per person, available every day except Sunday. Daytime diners can also order from the Lunch Menu, which includes Italian paninos with chips for £4.95, any pizza or pasta dish for £5.95. Vegetable side orders are also available for just £2.50 per item.

It also offers a two course evening meal for just £12.95 per person, from Sunday to Thursday, and the II Palazzo Sunday Roast, served with all the trimmings for just £6.95. What's more, the restaurant also has its own children's menu, which provides bambinos with a choice of pasta dishes or pizza for just £3.95, making it a great place to go with all the family.

Il Palazzo, in Southchurch Road, definitely deserved five stars for its service and cuisine, and was a wonderful place to enjoy a romantic meal in a classy setting. You can also enjoy a classic Italian meal at it's sister restaurant in West Road, Westcliff, making it the ideal place to enjoy something to eat before a show at Palace Theatre, situated opposite.

Both restaurants offer free parking – just get a refund on your ticket from a nearby public car park when paying your bill – as well as party bookings.

Christmas bookings are also now being taken for festive celebrations with family, friends and work colleagues. Both restaurants will be serving a three-course menu for just $\mathfrak{L}19.95$, ideal for pre-Christmas parties, and will also be open on Christmas Day when they will be serving a four-course menu for $\mathfrak{L}49.95$.

Both restaurants will also be open on Boxing Day, New Year's Eve and New Year's Day. Anyone interested in making a reservation for the Christmas period is urged to book early to avoid disappointment.

For further information about both restaurants visit www.ilpalazzo.co.uk II Palazzo Southchurch is located at 513 Southchurch Road, Southend, for which you can call 01702 467793 for reservations; while II Palazzo Westcliff is located at 1 West Road, Westcliff-on-Sea, for which you can call 01702 341888 for reservations.

One of the best Suzuki models going

THOSE masters of the small car at Suzuki realigned the range and one of the smart choices is the Celerio.

Built in Thailand, the Celerio embodies many of the qualities that have seen Suzuki sales rise in recent times, including ease of driving, an elevated driving position, interior space that surpasses expectations and a surprisingly good luggage capacity.

In fact it offers a degree of the qualities of a SUV without the usually massive expense

The Celerio is a compact crossover and its initial 1.0 three-cylinder petrol engine is now joined by a Dualjet version of the same engine, which returns a staggering com bined economy figure of 78.4mph and a very low CO2 figure of 84g/km.
This version costs £8,499 and is very well equipped with six airbags and ESP fitted as standard safety equipment for both UK models

Strong residual values of 39 per cent at three years/60,000 miles are forecast by Glass's Guide this month.

On the road this version may not be the fastest set of wheels in the garage, but its top speed of 96mph and 0-62mph sprint should be enough to satisfy the customer who has an eye to economy as well as per-

And the fact that the fuel gauge does not seem to want to move is a major plus point

In everyday driving I was getting at least 69mpg which was impressive to say the

It is surprisingly comfortable with an elevated driving position that takes much stress out of long trips.

Its three-cylinder engine is reasonably silent but it does work hard.

operation in cities where total length of just 3,600mm and neat turning circle make it a doddle to park.

It is also extremely roomy for a small car with best-in-class boot space of 254 litres.

Even the basic model includes air conditioning, alloy wheels DAB radio, CD tuner plus Bluetooth and USB connectivity.

It competes against cars like the VW Up! and Skoda Citigo and how it fares remains to be seen.

It is certainly one of the best models I have seen from Súzuki in recent times.

This is Suzuki's first big throw at producing a modern global city car with wide appeal and its neat clean cut lines and balance of compact dimension with interior space promise a healthy future

Media Sales Executive

Yellow Advertiser has been published in this area and been a part of the community in Basildon since 1976.

An opportunity has arisen in our new Basildon office to join our busy sales team. We are looking for really exceptional individuals who can become part of our commercial division which we are currently expanding. The successful candidates will have many responsibilities in this varied sales role, giving priority to developing new business by cold calling and building relationships with prospective clients. To be successful in our business you need to have a flexible approach to work and be prepared to dig in and roll up your sleeves when the going gets a little bit tough! A proven sales background is essential and we are looking for highly motivated individuals who are keen to learn and keen to earn. A good command of the English language and good writing skills are most definitely a prerequisite, as are good listening skills and computer literacy.

What is in it for you:

Basic Salary plus tiered bonus structure, 5 weeks holiday per annum, Pension Scheme (after qualifying period), Fully expensed company car, On-going training.

If this sounds like the opportunity for you please email Vickywright@yellowad.co.uk with your current CV and the reasons why you match our requirements.

Previous applicants need not apply.

LUES LAC FINISHING TOU

Southend United

Southend United 0 Swindon Town 1 Brian Jeeves reporting from Roots Hall Stadium

WASTEFUL Southend United's frustrating search for a first victory continues as they passed up a series of chances before going down to Fabien Robert's second-half strike.

Blues manager Phil Brown had taken responsibility for the defeat to Walsall at Roots Hall seven days earlier but was buoyed by the team's response in gaining a useful point from a mid-week draw at Doncaster.

Blues were celebrating 60 years at Roots Hall, but on a sweltering afternoon it was Swindon who threatened first.

United goalkeeper Daniel Bentley did well to scoop away Nathan Byrne's low drive, while the Swindon man was also unable to profit from the follow-up.

Southend responded but Noel Hunt's flashing header was just off target after David Worrall picked

Soon after, Lawrence Vigouroux in the Swindon goal did well to pluck Jack Payne's teasing centre as Adam Barrett lurked menacingly.

Clear-cut chances in the opening period continued to come at a premium. Worrall sent an effort from distance just past an upright, while at the other end Fabian Roberts's flashing header was too high for the Robins

Straight after the break Blues passed up a couple of glorious opportunities to open the scoring.

Hunt found room behind the Robins' back-line after good work from Payne and Will Atkinson, but Vigouroux did well to thwart the Irishman's attempt with his feet.

Then the busy Payne should have hit the target, firing wide from close range after Hunt had nodded into his path.

And the chances continued for Southend. Hunt was unable to direct Ben Coker's low centre goalwards and just after the hour mark they were made to pay for their wastefulness.

Robert finished a lightning raid forward, nipping onto Byrne's pass before directing beyond Bentley for his third goal in as many games.

Brown threw Myles Weston and Anthony Wordsworth on for Atkinson and Michael Timlin, and it almost paid dividends when Weston's close range header was brilliantly tipped over by Vigouroux.

In stoppage time Vigouroux produced another top-class stop to deny substitute Joe Pigott, while Coker fired just over as Blues pressed. But a lack of quality in the final third proved costly.

Brown said: "We've only got one goal in five games and that quite simply points towards something.

"But I can't ask anymore from the players. I think once this season we've let ourselves down, let the side down, let the shirt down and let the supporters down and that was the Walsall game.

"But today, I can't say that we've let anybody down, apart from sticking the ball in the back of the net, which is a key part of the game and is the most important part of the game

"We've come up against one of the better teams in the division, last year they got into the play-offs, and rightly so, with the way they played.

They've scored nine goals in four games before they came here and we've narrowed them down to huff and puff really in the first half.

"Then they got the goal and that changed the whole dynamics of the

On his search for a potent front-man, Brown added: "We're still in that market, we still want to bring a striker in '

Blues defender Luke Prosser said: "We're extremely frustrated, but you've got to try and take the positives. We had some really good chances, at this moment in time the ball isn't dropping for us."

Blues continue their search for a first Sky Bet League One victory at the Ricoh Arena against Coventry City on Monday, kick-off 7.45pm.

Southend United: Daniel Bentley, John White (Capt), Ben Coker, Luke Prosser, David Worrall, Michael Timlin (Anthony Wordsworth), Jack Payne, Will Atkinson (Myles Weston), Noel Hunt, Ryan Leonard, Adam Barrett (Joe Pigott). Substitutes not used: Ted Smith, David Mooney, Gary Deegan Luke (Vilseli gan. Luke O'Neil

Swindon Town: Lawrence Vigouroux, Nathan Thompson (Capt) (Drissa Traore), Brandon Ormonde-Ottewill, Fabien Roberts, Jordan Williams, Jordan Turnbull, Yaser Kasim, Michael Smith (Miles Storey), Nathan Byrne, Anton Rodgers (Kevir Stewart). Raphael Rossi-Branco. Substitutes not used: Tyrell Belford, James Bro-phy, Lee Marshall, Bradley Barry.

Non-league round-up

Rampant Aveley lead goalfest

By Brian Jeeves

THE Ryman League Division One North was the place to be for goals, as the net bulged in games involving our region's clubs.

Liam Nash, James Peagram, Paul Preston and Petrit Elbi (penalty) were all on target as a rampant Aveley thrashed Redbridge by four goals to one at Station Road.

Tilbury also had four on the score sheet, with Emiel Aiken, Kurt Smith, James Cook and a Luke Illsley own-goal securing a dramatic 4-3 win for the Dockers over Cheshunt at Chad-check after their good start to the campaign. Goals from Max Kent, Lewis Sparrow and Jay Nash had given the villagers a seemingly unassailable 3-1 half-time lead over Wroxham at Burroughs Park. But the Yachtsmen hit back to stun the home fans, winning by the odd goal in seven.

Great Wakering Rovers fans got a reality

There was drama at Waltham Abbey where Barkingside grabbed a valuable point after Junior Ogedi-Uzokewa (2) and George Lutaaya earned Side a 3-3 draw.

Elsewhere David Knight's first-half spot-kick helped AFC Hornchurch to a 1-1 draw with Thamesmead Town at Bridge Avenue, and it was the same outcome at Harlow Town where Jamie Dicks found the net to earn Romford a share of the spoils.

In the Ryman Premier Division Grays Athletic took the honours in a big Essex derby.

Brad Thompson and James Stevens scored either side of the interval to secure a 2-0 win over Billericay Town, and there was an exciting contest at Leatherhead, where John Easterford's last-minute strike earned Canvey Island a 4-4

John Curran, Martin Tuohy and Marlon Agyakwa were also on target for the Gulls. But it was not such good news for Brentwood Town who went down to Marc Charles-Smith's solitary goal at Harrow Borough.

In the National League Premier Division, Dan Sparkes' 23rd minute goal was enough to earn improving Braintree Town maximum points against former Football League outfit Southport.

This latest win took the Iron up to 13th place in the top Division.

However, it was an afternoon to forget for our National League South clubs.

Morgan and Hugo Skepelhorn found the net, but it was not enough to prevent Chelmsford City from slipping to a 4-2 defeat at Whitehawk.

And it was no better for Concord Rangers, who crashed 3-0 to Hemel Hempstead at the Aspect Arena.

In the Essex Senior League, leaders Bowers & Pitsea marched on with a 2-0 win over London Bari. Hullbridge Sports were also 2-0 winners, Greenhouse London the team leaving Lower Road without any points.

At Cricklefield Stadium Ilford edged out Stansted by the odd goal in three, while Newham were involved in an exciting 2-2 draw at Sawbridgeworth.

Eton Manor played out a 1-1 draw with Barking and it was the same outcome at Southchurch Park Arena between Southend Manor and Take-

Game of the day in the ProKit UK Essex Senior League Premier Division saw White Ensign hammer May & Baker 5-0 at the Len Forge Centre. Gary Ticehurst hit a brace for the home side, with Yaw Danso. Lee Delf and Darren Burrell were also on target

Leyton Orient

Newport County 2 Leyton Orient 3 By Rowland Lyons at Rodney Parade

LEYTON Orient maintained their 100 per cent record but got the shock of their lives after throwing away a two-goal lead.

Paul McCallum and Jay Simpson had seemingly set the O's on their way to three points but they got a wake-up call when County struck twice either side of half-time with goals from Scott Boden and Mark Byrne.

Dean Cox restored the east Londoners' advantage 10 minutes into the second-half and it staved that way, but the O's had to work hard.

Orient raced into a two-goal lead inside seven minutes, with McCullum opening the scoring with a fine header after Cox carved open a static Exiles' defence, before Simpson doubled their lead with a stunning, angled drive with Cox again in the thick of the action.

Even before County had managed their first attack, the points should have been heading to east London, with McCullum nodding a great chance over a stranded Joe Day's bar and soon after his header, from Cox's flag-kick, ran along the Newport crossbar.

County couldn't get any worse and with the O's seemingly flagging in the South Wales heat, Boden reduced the deficit four minutes from the break with a drive that beat Alex Cisak via the underside of the Within seconds of the restart, County were level when skipper Byrne tried his luck from 30 yards and beat the diving Cisak, again with the help of the woodwork.

The visitors were now on the rack and only Cisak's fingertips stood between Danny Holmes's rising drive and an unbelievable turn-

O's boss Ian Hendon tried to steady the ship and shortly after the introduction of Ollie Palmer and Blair Turgott, Cox nipped in and beat Day at his near post, with a typical poacher's strike, after Turgott wriggled free of his marker.

But Orient had to earn the right to remain the only Football League outfit with a perfect record and Cisak made another fine save to keep out Boden's header, before late Josh Laurent wasted the Rebels' best chance and blazed over from 10 yards deep into stoppage

Hendon said: "We started the game really well, got two good goals and nearly got a third. If that had gone in, it would have been a different game. Half-time came at a good time as we made some changes. Coxy then gets another goal, but Newport were still in the ascendency and they made us work hard but that's football."

Newport chief, ex-England skipper Terry Butcher, added: "How do think I feel after this defeat? It's terrible. I thought we deserved a little a lot more from the game."

Cisak said: "We had to dig deep in the second-half to get the three points. We should have gone three up, but they got their goals and they made it very hard for us. We will have to play a lot better against Bristol Rovers this Saturday.

Lifetime Guarantee Approved

High-Tech Roofing have installed and guaranteed over 8,000 domestic projects – every roof we install comes complete with a LIFETIME guarantee, to give you absolute peace of mind.

Over 70% of homes in the UK have a flat roof incorporating a mineral felt finish – that's seven out of ten home owners with a potential flat roof problem...

Mineral felt is prone to a slow breakdown, often allowing water ingress to cause unnecessary problems before being visibly detected within the home. Mineral felt has tendency to blister throughout summer months and eventually becomes brittle and cracks during colder periods. Cracking will also appear around the exposed edges and other points of detail, e.g. around pipes, skylights, brickwork flashings into or under tiles, etc. These areas are where workmanship is most crucial. Felt also attracts moss and algae, further degrading the roof surface.

It is important every homeowner carefully checks their insurance policy. In our experience, a flat roof over ten years and leaking may not be covered by the homeowner's insurance policy. When making a claim, we understand that unless it is proven storm damage causing a flat roof to leak the damage could be seen as wear and tear or poor workmanship; this will leave the homeowner with the financial burden not only for external but also for internal repairs.

In 1999, High-Tech Roofing first introduced the most advanced flat roof technology to the homeowner. Protan, based in Norway, has a pedigree in the design and manufacture of waterproofing materials dating back to 1939, and producing the first roofing membrane in 1971. Protan is our preferred PVC single-ply flat roofing system. Protan will cope with all climates, as millions of square meters are installed here and abroad with a proven track record stretching over four decades. Protan is predominantly an architect-specified roofing system, winning many awards and serving the very competitive commercial sector.

High-Tech has installed and proudly guarantees, over 8000 flat roof installations throughout Essex, Kent and London regions.

A High-Tech roof is dimensionally stable and solar reflective, it is unaffected by climate change and 100% resistant to moss and algae. As it is vapour permeable, it can never blister or become brittle and crack. We will create an anti-slip 100% storm resistant watertight roof-maintenance free and guaranteed never to leak.
